WILL PERMIT WEALTH FILLS ESTABLISHING THE JURY BOX OF BRANCHES OVER WATERS

MEANS MILLIONS FOR AMERICANS

National Banks Soon to Establish Branches Abroad.

PERMITTED BY CURRENCY BILL

Administration Showing Signs of Impatience Over the Disposition On the Part of Some Democratic Senators to Delay Action On the Measure—Showdown Probable Before Many Days Have Passed.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The saving of millions of dollars each year is predicted as a result of the provision in the currency bill permitting national banks of the United States to establish branches abroad. It is declared that American exporters have been paying an annual tribute of millions of dollars to European banks having branches in the countries with which the United States trades most. This is especially true of conditions in South and Central America. The leaders in South American trade with whom Americans are engaged in the severest competition are Great Britain, Germany and Italy. All of these countries have banks in South American countries, through which the American exporter must do business. Not only have these banks reaped tremendous profits out of the business, but there is a vast amount of evidence to show that they deliberately endeavor to cut the throats of their American competitors.

Representative Bulkley of Ohio is one of the members of the majority party in the house who have given this matter some attention, and he has reached the conclusion that the provision for branch banks abroad is one of the strongest arguments in favor of the pending bill.

This week is likely to see important developments in regard to the currency measure. The administration's advisers are beginning to show signs of impatience over the disposition on the part of some Democratic senators to delay action on this bill, and the president, before many days are passed, will take steps to bring about a showdown with these legislators.

The members of the senate committee who are standing in the way of "hasty" consideration are Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska, O'Gorman of New York and Reed of Missouri. Should they vote with Republican members of the committee on any amendment suggested they would be able to control the situation.

The views of the proponents of delay and further consideration are indicated in a statement given out by Senator Hitchcock. Senator Hitchcock predicts that the administration bill will be changed by the senate in "several hundred" particulars.

CONVICT PAINTER

Columbus, O., Sept. 29.—"Considering his subject, I would say the artist has turned out a very good picture. This was Governor Cox's comment on the painting of himself, presented to him by Major Wilson Collins of the Volunteers of America, on behalf of the prisoners of the institution. The picture is from the brush of John Crawford, and the frame is the work of Michael Sotosanta, both prisoners. Crawford and Sotosanta passed their spare time for five months completing the painting and the frame.

RICH MEN TO SERVE ON CORONER'S JURY

Rockefeller, Astor and Others
Summoned In Schmidt Case.

New York, Sept. 29.—Coroner Feinberg has served summonses on 38 of the best known business men in New York city, requiring them to be present at the coroner's court Friday as a panel from which to select a jury for the inquest into the death of Anna Aumuller, the rectory maid, whom Hans Schmidt has confessed that he murdered.

The coroner's reason for calling so exceptional a jury, he said, is to provide a precedent in case any question of the corpus delicti, the identity of the body, should come up. Coroner Feinberg believes that future juries would be guided by the decision of this jury. Among the men it is proposed to select a jury from are: Theodore P. Shonts, Robert L. Gerry, Harry Payne Whitney, J. P. Morgan, Vincent Astor, George Gould, August Belmont, Cornelius Vanderbilt and John D. Rockefeller.

BLACKMAILERS MURDER YOUTH

POLICE FIND MOTIVE

Man Charged With the Cruel Murder of a Small Boy.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Joseph O'Brien is under arrest, charged with the murder of 7-year-old Israel Goldman. O'Brien answers the description of the man who was seen with the boy on the road leading to a golf club. He is a neighbor of the Goldmans, and when questioned by the police admitted that the boy had been in his company for several hours before he disappeared. His coat is stained with blood.

The police have unearthed a possible motive for the crime. They found that the boy's father was married before and divorced, and only recently had been threatened with exposure as to his past life if he did not give $5,000 as the price of silence. The police admit that they have a clew which would make it appear that if O'Brien did not kill the child he was possibly in the employ of those who wished to wreak vengeance on the child's father.

TO GO TO OXFORD

Cleveland Youth Comes to Grief
In New York.

New York, Sept. 29.—Wilbur Forster, 17, a high school boy, robbed the Cleveland department store for which he worked as an errand boy of $1,400 Saturday and was arrested with the money in his pockets here on a New York Central train. He told detectives who caught him that it had been his ambition to enter Oxford university, and that when he suddenly found $1,400 in cash in his hands he couldn't resist temptation. He had planned to sail Wednesday on the Mauritania. He had determined, he said, to go straight to Oxford and to enter a preparatory school which would fit him for a university course.

As young Forster told his story his eyes filled with tears, but he didn't appear to be dismayed over the situation. On Saturday morning an assistant cashier of William Taylor's department store, Cleveland, called young Forster and handed him a package of currency containing $1,400 in bills of various denominations. He told him

TO BAR SULZER'S TALE OF HIS LIFE

Counsel For Prosecution Say This Evidence Is Not Admissible.

GOVERNOR HOPEFUL, HOWEVER

Outlines In His Story an Alleged Conspiracy On the Part of State Democratic Leaders to Get Rid of Him. Counsel For Sulzer Denies That Witness Peck Was Advised to Violate His Oath.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Counsel for the assembly impeachment managers declared that the court of impeachment would not permit Governor Sulzer to recite on the witness stand the human interest story he is preparing, outlining an alleged conspiracy on the part of Charles F. Murphy and local Democratic leaders throughout the state to get rid of him.

With a view of leading up to such a recital on the part of Governor Sulzer, it was learned that the Sulzer forces were to subpoena any member of the Democratic state committee who accepts the state leadership of Charles F. Murphy, with a view of showing that these local Democratic leaders throughout the state labored with their local assemblymen at the behest of the leader of Tammany Hall to get them to vote for Sulzer's impeachment. Counsel for the managers, however, declare that this evidence is not admissible.

Friends of Governor Sulzer insisted that the governor never advised State Superintendent of Public Works Duncan W. Peck to lie under oath regarding Mr. Peck's $500 cash contribution to the governor, and declared Peck would be recalled for cross-examination by counsel for Governor Sulzer.

It is expected that testimony for the prosecution will be all in by Wednesday or Thursday, and it is believed, unless the high court of impeachment suspends the restraining rules of evidence adopted for the guidance of the court and permits Governor Sulzer and his witnesses to give all manner of testimony, that all the evidence might be in by the end of two weeks and a decision by the court reached by the middle of October.

Governor Sulzer seems confident that Presiding Judge Cullen will permit him to tell the story of his life in his own way on the witness stand, and especially to review the events which Governor Sulzer declares led up to his impeachment.

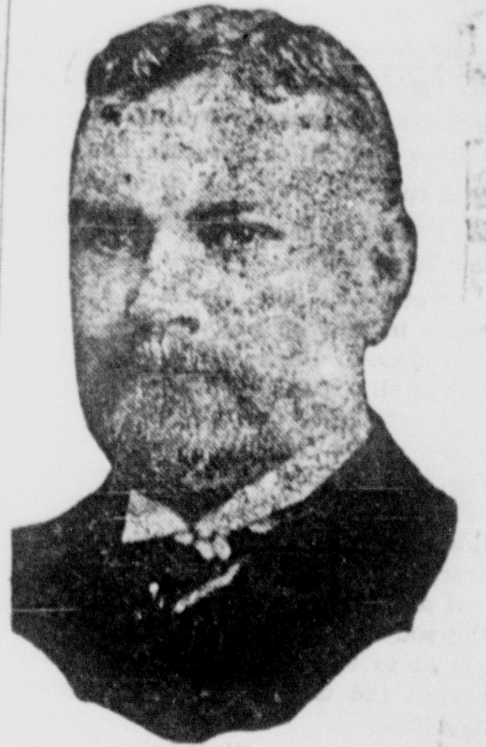

TOMBS IS HOME OF SMOOTH WOMAN

Woman Held by New York Police On Embezzlement Charge.

New York, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Frances Lavy, or Mrs. Elizabeth Van B. Nichols, as she is called by the police, was sent to the Tombs without bail to await identification as Mrs. Nichols, the erstwhile society leader who is wanted by the authorities of New Hanover county, North Carolina, on a charge of embezzling $3,436 from Mrs. Helene E. Lemassent of West Philadelphia. She was arrested at the Hotel Endicott, where she has been staying for some months with her son Spencer. Mrs. Nichols appropriated for her own use, it is alleged, money given her to invest in real estate in 1912.

Small Town In Mississippi.

SEQUEL OF NEGRO LADS' SPREE

Three Prominent Citizens Killed and Five Others Dangerously Wounded as the Result of a Gun Battle With Blacks—One of the Instigators of the Trouble Hanged by a Mob—Excitement Still Intense.

Harrison, Miss., Sept. 29.—As a result of a drunken spree by two negro brothers, Walter and Willie Jones, 16 and 18 respectively, four prominent white citizens are dead and five others are dangerously wounded, and nine negroes are dead and quite a number wounded.

The white dead are: Sheriff Hammett, Claude Freeman, B. E. Kingsley, Conductor Ed Appleby. White dangerously wounded: Flagman Will Bond, Circuit Court Clerk Whitmore, L. McCauley, Robert Kingsley.

The trouble started when the Jones brothers went down to "Negro town" and there fired several shots at random in their drunken debauch, and a negro or two were killed.

When Sheriff Hammett was informed of the trouble he started out immediately with a posse. The negroes were surrounded and barricaded in an old house, from which they fired continually, and killed the white citizens who were attempting to capture the barricaded negroes.

Walter Jones was killed by the posse and later Willie Jones was captured and hanged to a post in front of the railway station.

The town was wildly excited from the time the trouble started, and when the white citizens were killed the people formed in a large posse and went out to conquer the young desperadoes. The only cause of the triple tragedy in "Negro town," which opened the hostilities, as far as anyone can learn, was that the two Jones boys were full of whisky and cocaine and ran amuck.

Uncle Sam's Biggest Battleship, the Arkansas, In Dry Dock After Scoring New World's Record.

The Arkansas, the largest of Uncle Sam's battleships, which recently made a new world's target record by scoring six hits in six shots in 57 seconds, is here shown in the Brooklyn navy yard dry dock. She went there shortly after she had made the record on the southern drill seas off the Virginia capes. The picture gives a striking idea of what the greatest war vessel in the United States navy looks like when it is out of water. The ship underwent minor repairs, together with the Florida, Wyoming, Utah and Delaware, and then proceeded to southern waters for drill on Oct. 3.

NOTHING MAY BE VERY FUNNY.

Weedon Grossmith Proved It to Henry Irving's Satisfaction.

In "From Studio to Stage" Weedon Grossmith tells us of his invitation to play Jacques Strop to Henry Irving, a Robert Macaire. He says it took his breath away. Irving told him that he had received good reports of the young actor from Booth and Jefferson in America and arranged to pay him £10 a week if that would be enough.

"I didn't tell him that I would have played the part for nothing and have willingly given a premium to have done so (if I had had the premium). I positively received £10 a week to be instructed in the art of acting by the greatest actor of our time. It was worth hundreds to me both from an artistic and a business point of view. The pains and trouble Irving took with every one over the slightest detail were remarkable. I admit he was very trying at times, especially when I was doing something quietly humorous—or, rather, nothing—and he would gaze on me very solemnly and say, 'That's not funny, my boy. You must do something funny there.'"

"I proved to him, however, on the first night that sitting perfectly still on the staircase looking the picture of misery was decidedly funny, at least the audience thought so—so much so that the great chief said to me afterward, 'What were you doing on the staircase that made the audience laugh so much?'"

"'Nothing,' I replied.

"'All right, my boy, do it again,' he answered."

CORNELL PRESIDENT'S RECALL COMPROMISE MEETS COLD SHOULDER

JACOB G. SCHURMAN

New York, Sept. 29.—Jacob G. Schurman, president of Cornell university, as temporary chairman of the Republican state convention, denounced all theories of judicial intimidation and proposed instead of the recall of judicial decisions a system of appeal to the supreme court of the United States on questions which cannot now be carried so high or an amendment in disputed cases of the state constitution, such as in the instance of the recent workmen's compensation act. His compromise for the radical stand of the Progressives on the recall was not adopted by the convention, however, the platform standing strongly for the independence of the judiciary.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DAVID HOPKINS

The large home of Mr. David Hopkins was filled with relatives and friends Saturday afternoon, when the funeral services of Mrs. Hopkins were impressively conducted by Rev. Gage, of the Presbyterian church.

The minister spoke beautifully and appreciatively of the wife, who had made the home life for her husband and given affectionate care to adopted daughters, after the death of her own children in infancy, and of the qualities of the friend and neighbor.

A quartet, Miss Bess Kerr, Mrs. Mary Goldsberry, Messrs. Chas. Dabney, R. R. Kibler, Miss Lulu Henkle, accompanist, sang the hymns, "Some Day We'll Understand," and "Abide With Me."

The pallbearers were Messrs. A. F. Hopkins, Scott Hopkins, Kent Hopkins, of this city, Messrs. Erk Kerr, Roy Duncan and Albert Ross, of Greenfield.

A number accompanied Mr. Hopkins to the Washington cemetery for the final service at the grave.

Among relatives from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton, Orlando, Fla.; Mr. Washington Hopkins, Hot Springs, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ryan and daughter, Miss Mamie, Cincinnati; Mrs. Hopkins' brother, Mr. Jerry Kerr and family, Greenfield; Mrs. John Brown and Miss Hazlett, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Connersville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Hathaway, Columbus; Mrs. Phoebe Peterson, son, Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Frankfort, and a number from the neighborhood of Frankfort, Greenfield and surrounding country.

The floral remembrances were beautiful.

The owners realized the neat sum of $30.25 per head.

JURY STILL OUT IN DR. SMITH TRIAL

The jury in the case of Ohio against Dr. Arthur B. Smith is still out, although the case was placed in their hands Saturday, and they have been locked up since that time.

Dr. Smith is the Springfield physician who is accused of murdering his wife.

It is the second time the physician has been tried for the crime of which he is accused.

SELLS FLOTO SHOW A DECIDED SUCCESS

The night performance of the Sells-Floto circus Saturday was exceptionally good and several thousand persons enjoyed nearly two hours of royal entertainment.

The afternoon crowd was not as large as the showmen had anticipated, and the seats from one side of the "big top" were removed before the evening performance. However, the evening audience was much larger than anticipated, and several hundred persons were compelled to stand during the entire performance.

The night was chilly and most of the audience went prepared to keep warm, wearing heavy top coats and cloaks.

Soon after the performance closed the big tent was folded up and the big trucks hauled to the railroad and shortly after midnight the trains pulled out for Louisville, Ky.

The weather in this community is becoming too cold for the show and it will tour the south for some weeks before going into winter quarters.

The gentlemanly treatment accorded local citizens who had business dealings with the show was the theme of much comment, and Sells-Floto will always be welcome in Washington.

Much of the membership increase was due to the Billy Sunday campaign, which increased the membership of nearly every church in Columbus.

IMMENSE CROWD ATTENDS SURPRISE

The handsome new home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hutson, near Yatesville, was the scene of one of the greatest social gatherings ever in that section of the county on Sunday.

It was the birthday of Mrs. Hutson, who is the daughter of Mr. Eli Smith, of Jeffersonville, and the affair was in honor of this occasion and one of the most complete surprises ever put over.

Relatives and friends took especial pleasure in preparing for the surprise, as Mrs. Hutson had frequently declared she did not believe she could be taken unawares.

Miss Charity Vesey, of this city, a visitor at the Hutson home, and Mrs. Hutson, left the house early to attend Sunday school and as soon as they were safely away the guests began to arrive, bringing huge baskets filled with the picnic spread. Mr. Hutson received them and everything was in readiness upon Mrs. Hutson's return.

As she approached the home, Mrs. Hutson saw the autos and buggies filling the grounds and the "cat was out of the bag."

A hundred and fifty relatives, neighbors and friends greeted her with a shower of good wishes as she drove up.

That picnic feast has had few equals, even in Paint township, famed for its good cooks. Eighty feet of table was set and so piled with good things that there was no room for decoration.

The entire day proved a most joyous occasion and the guests left, wishing "many happy returns" to their surprised hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hutson and Miss Vesey were Washington guests, and there were a number from Jeffersonville, Bloomington and the neighboring county.

Use the phone and order your Lecture Course tickets before they are sold.

LARGE ACREAGE OF WHEAT SOWN

For several days the farmers have been working early and late sowing their wheat, and it is claimed that the acreage this fall will be equal if not more than that sown last fall.

Most of the ground sown has been that from which the corn has been cut, as the weather has been too dry to plow with best results.

Most of the farmers have their wheat sowing well under way, and some have completed the sowing.

Nearly all corn will be placed in the shock this week, making room for the drill.

The Evidence It Furnishes

The Panama canal is now practically completed and with its completion the United States government becomes pre-eminent in the ranks of the great nations of the earth for having accomplished a task which appeared to be almost beyond human ingenuity and human strength.

De Lesseps, the great French engineer and the gigantic company which he formed to carry on and complete the work "went broke" before the task was well under way. Powerful nations—nations rich in men and money—refused to take up the task which had proven the undoing of the great Frenchman and the loss of hundreds of millions to those, rich and poor, who believed the task possible of accomplishment.

The value of the canal to the commerce of the world was acknowledged to be almost beyond calculation in dollars. The prestige which the nation, building and controlling the canal, would enjoy and the profit that would flow there from was conceded.

The conservative nations of the old world declined to take the risk which the undertaking entailed, and it remained for the United States to undertake to do a work that was considered impossible in view of conditions then existing.

Engineers believed that the work could be done provided the requisite amount of capital could be raised to push it through.

The world realized that almost any of the great nations could raise the funds. The difficulty, which appeared under conditions as they existed after the collapse of the De Lesseps Company, was to find enough honest public servants to guard the government's hundreds of millions of treasure and see that it was expended honestly and that value received in work accomplished was returned for every dollar paid out.

People and political conditions in the United State had been progressing rapidly and this nation was first to realize that the government and the people were morally fit to undertake the gigantic task of building the canal.

Millions of dollars were to be spent, nature, entrenched behind ramparts that had been building since time began was to be conquered, mountains there were to be moved and valleys to be filled, dams and locks of such size and strength that they surpassed the dreams of men, were to be constructed, oceans were to join hands across a continent, but these obstacles did not alone hold back the work.

Would public servants stand true to the trust. Other nations feared they would not, but Uncle Sam had confidence in his public servants.

Kings and emperors with their governments of iron founded on power passed the work along to a government of the people and that government succeeded.

The work has gone through without serious trouble, the goods are delivered ahead of the time promised, and the work is honestly done. Not a breath of scandal has shaken the confidence of the people in their servants.

Great as a monument to the ingenuity and the power of man the Panama Canal undoubtedly is, but it is greater by far as a monument to the honesty of the American public servant and the efficiency of a government of the people.

The American people have progressed so far that in the great affairs of government the dishonest public servant, the tricky, deceitful and untruthful politicians have no place. The Pacific and the Atlantic oceans reaching across the Isthmus have shaken hands on that. The day is fast coming when clear down the line from the highest to the lowest place, the dishonest will be shorn of power.

The Panama canal is greatest after all in the testimony it bears of the era that is here.

Neglect of European Forests a Lesson For Us

By T. S. WOOLSEY, Representative of the United States Forestry Bureau at International Forestry Congress

IN the French Alps there is a lesson in conservation for America. The government had to spend millions in repairing the damage from FLOODS AND LANDSLIDES CAUSED BY EXCESSIVE CUTTING OF TIMBER. We shall avoid that in the west because we have established national forests in time, and the southern Appalachian commission is now at work selecting land for the purposes of forestation to avoid this very thing.

An example of exactly the opposite kind is found, however, in the Landes, a district in the south of France, where for a hundred years millions of acres of WORTHLESS SAND COVERED LAND HAS BEEN STOCKED WITH SEA PINE AND CONVERTED INTO VALUABLE FORESTS.

Our Appalachian commission is taking up at a much earlier stage the same problem that cost France so dear in the Alps. Fortunately nothing like the same amount of damage has yet been done.

PARTS OF THE UNITED STATES ARE ALREADY RUINED THROUGH THE WASTING OF FOREST RESOURCES INSTEAD OF CONSERVING THEM, ESPECIALLY IN THE SOUTHERN MOUNTAINS, WHERE TIMBER DENUDATION HAS RESULTED IN FLOODS CAUSING EROSION AND DAMAGE TO WATER POWER AND FARM LANDS LYING BELOW THE FOREST REGION.

Many of our winter floods and summer droughts are also due to forest destruction. The forests absorb the water like sponges and give it gradually without the erosion and the consequent spreading of sediments so ruinous to agricultural land.

Poetry For Today

WORRY AND HURRY.

There are two little demons we have to combat,
And their names are Worry and Hurry;
They play the deuce with our nerves and all that,
But still we keep on with our hurry.
We hurry through breakfast, then off like a shot,
We worry through work till the end of the day,
We hurry through dinner, after which, like as not,
We hurry again to be off to a "play".
We hurry the baby as fast as we can,
Kindergarten and high school and college, you bet,
Are raced through in our hurry to make him a man,
Till his brain is a jumble, his nerves all upset.
Then we wonder why half of the world's inefficient,
As we ramble along in our hurry. I am sure this very good reason's sufficient.
It is due to our Worry and Hurry. Do you think, after all, it is worth what we pay,
In nervous prostration and numberless ills?
Why can't we take time to live, day by day,
For truly and surely it's hurry that kills.
—Nautilus.

Hartman Theater

Those who enjoyed the beautiful production "The Candy Shop" during Fair week will be glad of the announcement of another musical comedy which is said to equal that in every way—"The Dream Maiden"—which will be seen at the Hartman theater, Columbus, during the entire week of October 5th with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. The musical score, heralded as especially beautiful, is by a new Viennese composer, and the remembrance of the work of other Viennese composers in "The Merry Widow", "The Waltz Dream" and other successes of recent years, makes it an assured fact that this light opera will be all that is claimed for it. The company, numbering seventy, contains many names well known to theater-goers, among them Audrey Maple, Philip Simmons, Jos. Miron, John Morgan, Harry P. Gribbon, Kathryn Bowen and Ethel Walsh. Besides these principals we are promised a splendid singing and dancing chorus.

There is just enough comedy running through a beautiful and interesting story to give the audience an evening's entertainment worth while.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Fruit raising has become a paying industry in sections of Chile, Peru and Bolivia. Farmers have studied other countries where similar soil conditions exist and there are now being raised fruits of the temperate zone in a season which they are not produced in the U. S. or Europe. At present the supply is limited to neighboring countries, but when the Panama canal is completed these South American countries expect to enter into fruit competition with other parts of the world.

The opening of the Fort Peck Indian reservation in Montana is an historical event. It would have seemed absurd 15 years ago to think of farming this land but the federal irrigation projects and dry farming has caused the breaking up of many Indian reservations. The funds from the sale are held in trust for the Indians whose future is provided for, yet he is thoroughly disgusted with the whole performance. The younger Indians, however, seem to see the possibilities and advantages of the government moves and they go on and cultivate the 320 acres of unirrigated land, the 40 acres susceptible of irrigation and 20 acres of timber, allotted to them before the sale. Every Indian has his allotment and therefore some families own 2 or 3 thousands of acres. The sale of reservation land has realized $7,000,000 which will be held in trust for the Indians, the income only to go to them. Some of the Fort Peck Indians are worth $75,000 in land.

50 Chicago school teachers have been appointed by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, to act as a committee in the choice of a speller. Mrs. Young announced her intention when she was offered 60 spelling books for use in the schools. Several days ago she sent out requests for samples and was fairly swamped by replies. Of course she could not make a selection and the committee resulted. The price will not be considered though other things being equal, they will take the book costing the least.

BOOMING FESS FOR GOVERNOR

Friends of Congressman S. D. Fess, Republican, who, since the recent gerrymander has been in this Congressional district, are booming him for governor, pointing to his record in public life and particularly his late record in Congress as grounds warranting the boom.

In a statement issued by Congressman Fess and sent broadcast to the newspapers, Mr. Fess states that he would rather be in Congress. He does not say that he would not accept the nomination for governor, however.

Dublin, Sept. 29.—John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, in a speech at Cahirciveen, County Kerry, ment which he made two weeks ago in regard to a conference on the Irish question, when he said the home rule

then it would be easy enough to con-emphasized his refusal to participate about 180 of these companies which, heretofore, have been assessed by the up by small, inexpensive posts. Each

VISITING ATHLETES IN ROME CHEER THE POPE WHEN THEY APPEAR IN AUDIENCE BEFORE HIM

Perhaps the most remarkable audience granted by Pope Pius X since his last serious illness is here pictured. About 5,000 visiting athletes in Rome obtained permission to appear before him in a body after trouble with civil authorities had been settled. The pontiff was cheered by the visitors, and he bestowed his blessing upon them.

trouble. A special train was also run from Natchez to Harrison conveying a detachment of state militia, ordered out when there seemed to be a feeling that the trouble might terminate in a race war. Harrison and surrounding country continues greatly wrought up over the fearful tragedy, for never in the history of this section has there been anything to equal it. Windows in the Harrison railroad depot were shot out and fusillades of bullets were also fired indiscriminately by negroes who later engaged in the trouble. Kingsley was called to his door and shot from ambush. Conductor Appleby, Night Clerk Kingsley and McCaulay and Thad Ross also were shot while they were on the depot platform.
A white man was apprehended and charged with the illicit sale of cocaine whisky. Fearing summary punishment might be administered him, he was hurriedly taken to Natchez under heavy guard.
Conductor Appleby died later from his wounds. This town has about 300

CRACKED ONE SAFE AND TRIED ANOTHER

Yeggmen a few nights ago cracked the safe in a general store at Gallia and then tried to blow the C. H. & D. safe at the same place, but were frightened away before they succeeded.

Wm. Hubbard, son of Mrs. R. C. Tefft, is agent at Gallia, and the failure of the yeggs to crack the C. H. & D. safe saved the company a neat sum of money.

At Coalton the next night yeggs blew a safe and secured some $300 in money. It is believed the same men who operated at Gallia turned the trick at Coalton.

The sale of Lecture Course tickets is limited. Use the telephone and order season tickets.

SUIT CARRIED UP FROM JUSTICE'S COURT

The Ohio Publishing Company against George F. Robinson, is the style of a suit appealed from Justice T. N. Craig's court to the Common Pleas court, and filed Monday morning.

The plaintiff claims $22.50 for a historical and biographical work for which plaintiff claims the defendant contracted.

In Justice Craig's court, where the plaintiff was represented by Gregg, Patton and Gregg, and the defendant by Rankin & Rankin, a jury trial was held and judgment returned in favor of the defendant.

The costs already amount to nearly as much as the sum sued for.

TO GRIND WILD RICE.

Flour of It Will Be Tried as an Experiment.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—F. L. Vance, "the wild rice king" of the Popple river country, has commenced the manufacture of rice flour from the products of the shallow lakes of northern Minnesota.

For years Mr. Vance has made a business of harvesting wild rice and has built up a market. The flour will be manufactured at the Anderson gristmill at La Prairie, especial machinery for the purpose being installed.

Before being ground the rice must go through a roasting or drying process, and this is done near where the grain is harvested. A machine devised and built for this purpose by Mr. Vance is capable of roasting 1,200 pounds in six minutes. As far as known, this is the first time an attempt has been made to manufacture flour from wild rice. The raw material is plentiful, and practically the only cost will be the gathering and grinding, no seeding or soil preparation being necessary.

BLIND PHONE GIRLS PROVE VERY CAPABLE

New Field of Endeavor For Those Afflicted.

Baltimore.—The blind telephone girl has come to stay. An exceptional girl two years ago passed the severe tests of the work and has since then been a conspicuous example of what the blind, when gifted in other ways, may do, but now the Maryland School For the Blind has turned out five other well trained girls, and the managers believe that they will be able to open this field of work to many other girls. These six pioneers, who are leading the way for other blind girls of the future, are working with the regulation switchboards, but efforts are being made to evolve a new kind of board which will greatly simplify the training of the girls and increase their efficiency.

The most difficult board now run by blind girls is that at the Central Young Men's Christian association. The Young Men's Christian association is a club, a hotel and a clearing house for many lines of religious, social and athletic activities. Just as a hotel it has about 200 rooms. The building has here and there eight pay stations, besides many house telephones.

A member of the association is apt to be in any one of a score or more parts of the building when he is asked for over the telephone. But wherever he is the blind girl will find him, if switching and asking and "searching" can locate him. What makes this position difficult is the fact there are not separate phones in every room, but only annunciators by which a bell in a room may be rung, summoning the roomer to the nearest telephone on his floor.

BOY DIES AMONG "HEALERS."

Lad Was Starved In "Holy Ghost and Us" Colony.

Lewiston, Me.—Conditions at Shiloh the colony of the "Holy Ghost and Us" society, are to be investigated again as a result of charges by Mrs. Roland Whittem of Brunswick that her thirteen-year-old brother, Haydon Jones, died of starvation at Shiloh.

Mrs. Whittem alleges that while her brother was ill no physician was called and that no special treatment was given him except that he was put on a diet of corn mush, while two women "healers" prayed over him. The lad died on July 22.

Hurt Once In Fifty-five Years.

Bloomington, Ind.—After working steadily in the stone quarries of Monroe county fifty-five years Linzey Simms, sixty-nine, met with his first accident when a large slab was brushed off a flat car and crushed his right leg. Simms jumped in time to prevent the stone from killing him.

NEEDS OF ARMY POINTED OUT

Senator Chamberlain Would Put It on Better Footing.

WANTS NATIONAL RESERVE.

Asserts That if Monroe Doctrine Is Maintained, Philippines Retained, Canal Controlled and Pacific Dominated Improvements Must Be Made. Measure to Increase Efficiency.

Washington.—The United States Infantry association, the organization of the infantry officers of the United States army, gave out an interview with Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate committee on military affairs, in the course of which Senator Chamberlain came out flatfootedly in favor of placing the army on a better war footing than is the case at present.

"As long," says Senator Chamberlain, "as we maintain the Monroe doctrine, retain the Philippines, control the Panama canal and dominate the Pacific, which is our manifest destiny, we must have an army adequate to care for these conditions and meet emergencies."

"No one advocates a large standing army in this country, but we ought to have as a military organization an army of efficient officers and drilled men which can be augmented by trained men from a reserve and supplemented by the national guard of the states."

"There has been a great deal of general discussion as to the necessity of better preparation for sudden war emergencies, and there seems to be quite a unanimous opinion that at the present time our army is wholly inadequate owing to the methods that have been employed. I am heartily in favor of such changes and improvements in the army as will meet existing conditions. We ought not to leave ourselves in an attitude where we fear the possibility of invasion by Japan on the Pacific coast or by any other foreign country on our Atlantic coast, nor in apprehension as to what might happen to our troops in case of intervention in Mexico because the army is inadequate for emergencies."

"The present session of congress has been occupied with matters which have taken all the time, so that little attention has been given to questions of national defense until the acute situation in Mexico has brought home to us the unprepared state of this nation to face a sudden war. If there should not be a peaceful termination of the Mexican trouble temporary war measures and makeshifts would have to be adopted, as has been the case at the beginning of every other war in this country, all of which have been disastrous and expensive on account of their experimental character.

SENATOR GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN.

"At the regular session of congress the subject of increasing military efficiency must be considered. The secretary of war has taken a pronounced position on the subject, and we will await his definite recommendations with a great deal of interest."

"I am not prepared now to say what should be done. The plans and details must be worked out by men of experience and judgment, but it is plainly apparent that improvements must be made and the army put in condition to meet the requirements of the nation."

"The formation of a reserve corps is a very difficult matter and one with which we have not had experience in this country. We cannot pattern on the lines of continental countries which have a conscription method of filling the ranks of the armies and control all available men for military service. Our army is a volunteer organization. The 'regular army man' is a voluntary soldier, who can return to other occupations at the end of his term of enlistment."

"At all events, it seems certain that the country is becoming aware of the unprepared condition of our army and will sustain congress in making such changes as seem necessary to place the army upon a footing to meet emergencies and secure the honor and integrity of the nation."

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Auto Goes Over Embankment.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 29.—With a broken steering gear, an automobile containing four persons dashed through an iron railing guarding a steep bank of the old Ohio canal, and all the passengers were thrown 25 feet down against a stone wall and badly hurt. Mrs. J. F. Alexander's injuries were a fractured skull, collar bone and two ribs and internal injuries. It is feared she may die. Mr. Alexander, Fred Wuebaker and Charles Connors, chauffeur, were the others injured.

Man Killed; Soldier Held.

Columbus, O., Sept. 29.—William J. Quinlan, 25, a private at Columbus barracks, is held while the police are investigating the death of an unknown man who was run over by a Steepleton car. Quinlan had ejected the man from the rear of a building and said he left him in the street. Frank Peck, motorman on the car, said the man was lying across the track and that he did not see him till within six feet of the body. The victim is about 55 years old.

Attacks License Law.

Canton, O., Sept. 29.—That the new liquor law is merely a part of a plan to build up a powerful political machine and that it will bring no benefit to the people of Ohio, were charges made by P. M. Hare, anti-saloon superintendent of West Virginia, in an address before the Northeastern Ohio Methodist conference. Hare declared the license law would enable the building up of an invincible ring.

Employers Will Aid Lad.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 29.—An official of the department store company that was robbed of $1,400 in cash by Wilbur Foerste, 17, who was arrested in New York, after learning of the boy's reasons for taking the money, declared that if he found the lad mentally fitted for a higher education he would see that he got it and aid him in every way possible.

Preacher Threatened by Crank.

Toledo, O., Sept. 29.—Rev. A. S.

Bowersox, pastor of the Western Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, read to his congregation a letter threatening him and every pastor in Ohio with death. In the letter the writer, evidently a crank, ridicules the stand of the ministers against Ohio's new liquor license law.

Auto Accident Fatal.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 29.—Richard Fisher of Baltimore, who was injured when George Ranchenberger ran his automobile into a Pennsylvania passenger train, is dead. Ranchenberger, his wife, three children and P. V. Weight, all of Castalia, who also were hurt, are in a serious condition.

This Ends the Trouble.

Peking, Sept. 29.—Japan agreed to a compromise in regard to the affair at Nanking, in which three Japanese were killed and an insult was offered to the Japanese flag. It accepted an apology from General Chang Hsun in modified form. It is supposed that this ends the trouble between China and Japan.

Have you a "little furnace" in your stove?

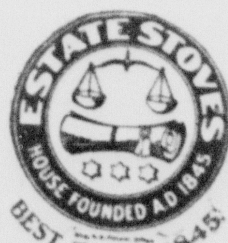

YES!—if it's an Estate Hot Storm. Otherwise—no! For the wonderful little furnace is an exclusive and patented feature of the Estate Hot Storm's construction.

While the stove is working overtime, radiating its heat upward, and downward, and every which way, the little furnace inside is shooting an enormous volume of pure hot air into the room.

Hardly seems possible for a stove to do so much work as the

Estate Hot Storm

does—and to do it so nicely, without any smoke or gas getting into the room, without any puffing or exploding, without requiring any attention whatever except to put in some coal every day or two.

Make up your mind to "Own an Estate" this season, and make it an Estate Hot Storm—"the stove with a little furnace in it." See it here at our store.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT THE SHAMROCKS

Home Team Easily Walks Off With Slow Game Sunday Afternoon—Matthews' Hitting and Fielding and Hedgecock's Long Fly Prove the Real Features of the Game—Score Was 10 to 2 Against the Visitors.

For the first time in many weeks the Washington Athletics came out of a game with the big end of the score, defeating the Shamrocks of Dayton 10 to 2 in a slow game Sunday afternoon.

Manager Noon shifted his line-up somewhat, sending Jones to second base and Doyle to Third, which improved the working ability of the team as they went through the game with only one error.

The features of the game was the hitting and fielding of Matthews, and Hedgecock's home run, which came in the eighth inning with two men on bases. Hedgecock drove one to deep centerfield, which was the longest hit that has been made on the local diamond this season.

Following is the score:

W. C. H. . . . 2 0 0 2 0 1 1 4 0—10

Sayre, who will be married to Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, at the White House on November 25. Mr. Sayre became acquainted with Dr. Grenfell when in Labrador, and the two are now firm friends. Dr. Grenfell is widely known for his lectures on life in Labrador.

HE SAYS HE'S NOT DEAD.

Civil War Veteran Denies He Was Killed at Fair Oaks.

Lansing, Mich.—One of the interesting figures in the ranks of the G. A. R. is John Broad of Lansing. According to the war records, Mr. Broad did not participate in the recent reunion here at all. The war records say he is dead. He has been trying for fifty years to convince the officials at Washington that he is alive and he has not succeeded yet. "John Broad, killed at the battle of Fair Oaks, Va.," say the records, and, so far as the department is concerned, that is all there is to it. "I'm dead yet, officially," he says, "but the boys don't mind associating with a ghost, so I guess it's all right."

STRANGE GREETING FOR A MILITANT

Leaders Don't Know How to Receive Mrs. Pankhurst.

HOW HER VISIT IS REGARDED

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, American Suffragist, Does Not Think That English Leader Should Be Entertained, as Few Courtesies Were Shown Americans While Abroad.

New York.—Will Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst be allowed by the immigration authorities to land in this country?

Most of the suffragette leaders say they honor Mrs. Pankhurst as a woman, but that they don't approve of her methods. Her visit is going to put them in an awkward position. If they don't pay any attention to her they will be accused of a slight to a woman who has spent her life working for "the cause." If they do show her attention their action may be interpreted as an approval of militant methods.

This is the choice of evils which Mrs. Pankhurst's visit has forced upon the American women, and a good many of them are resenting it. The Woman's Political Union has taken the bull by the horns and called to the prospective visitor an invitation to a public dinner. The invitation has been accepted. But never was hospitality preceded and accompanied by so much hostility.

A solution is to follow Mrs. Pankhurst's own example and leave her alone. Neither she nor her organization ever gave a dinner to a visiting American suffragist in England. She has had plenty of opportunities too.

MRS. EMMELINE PANKHURST.

But the Pankhurst society, alone among the English organizations, has never extended a single courtesy to an American leader, not even to Mrs. Catt, the international president.

"Why all this talk of what we shall or shall not do for Mrs. Pankhurst?" said Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National society. "Why not do just as Mrs. Pankhurst does when we visit England? I have been there repeatedly. Mrs. Catt has been there, other presidents of our organizations have been there. But I have yet to know of a luncheon or a dinner or a reception being given by Mrs. Pankhurst or her society for any of us."

"When Mrs. Pankhurst first visited this country we all entertained her to the best of our ability. The National society gave a reception for her, and there were dinners and luncheons and flowers and carriages for her wherever she went. Since then we, for our part, have been in her country, but the Women's Social and Political Union has never extended any of these courtesies to us. Wouldn't the natural inference be that Mrs. Pankhurst had signified thus her own desires and that we should be doing the simple and sensible thing if we did not extend to her the courtesies she forbore to extend to us?"

"It is true that, as I was reminded by some one the other day, I have spoken and lectured many times in England. But I never received one penny for it! Not only that, but I never had a carriage furnished to take me to the hall. I hired my own. If I marched in one of their parades I bought my own sash. And what was true of me in these circumstances was true of other American women."

"I honor Mrs. Pankhurst as a woman, while I disapprove of her methods. I regret for two reasons that she is coming to this country now—first, because at this time we need to focus all our own attention and all the public attention on our own work. Her coming will distract the attention from our issues and our methods."

"In the second place, she is coming here to raise money for her work in England. Thousands of people will pay to see and hear her, and that money will go abroad with her. I am sorry, because this is a critical time with us, and we need money."

Queen of Spain and Her Daughter, Deaf and Dumb, Like Brother.

Nearly heartbroken is the queen of Spain. It was bad enough that her second son was deaf and dumb, but now comes the added blow that her second daughter, the Infanta Maria, will be similarly affected. The little Spanish princess is totally deaf, and unless this can be corrected it is probable that she will never be able to speak. This is the latest picture of the queen and the little Maria.
